

Requirements for Engaging with the Congregation's Online Communities

Thank you for visiting the Congregation of St. Basil's online communities and we look forward to reading your comments and opinions in response to our posts. We appreciate your feedback. We also ask you to remember that these pages are a public space and it is a privilege to participate in any of these communities. Please be respectful of the members of this community by leaving out profane and offensive language. All of the Congregation of St. Basil's social media platforms are moderated by an authorized representative of the Congregation of St. Basil and reserves the right in its sole and absolute discretion to remove any comment deemed offensive, derogatory, misleading, or otherwise inappropriate for this page. Contributors assume all liability for posting material that infringes copyright. If you have a specific complaint about one of our programs or services, we invite you to contact us directly by completing the form at www.basilian.org/contact/. Opinions, conclusions, and other information expressed by external contributors on our online platforms belong to the author and do not represent the Congregation of St. Basil.

Identifying Inappropriate Use

If you notice inappropriate or unlawful content that has been published in breach of this policy, please report your claim via email to Jillian Kaster Miller, Communications Coordinator at jillian@basilian.org.
